

Gyerekparadicsom

Presentation

Gyerekparadicsom's aim is to develop and augment their work relating to socio-cultural activities in Hungary.

The organisation helps professionals and youth organisations. Since 2003, the organisation has organised a series of inter-professional conferences in Hungary for professionals working with children.

The scope of their activities includes international projects which they share with other Hungarian organisations and professionals.

The organisation offers

- Support for the development and implementation of academic programmes, and
- Training for professionals.
- Exchanges within professional networks
- A platform to facilitate cooperation between partners on questions relating to politics and training issues.

People resources

The organisation's president is a professor who specialises in social work and is associate professor at the university of Széchenyi István in Győr.

Their areas of particular interest are: the development of professional competencies in social work, social work with children and families, socio-cultural activities. The organisation works with a number of Hungarian education experts.
