Gyerekparadicsom

Presentation

Gyerekparadicsom’s aim is to develop and augment their work relating to socio-cultural activities in Hungary. The organisation helps professionals and youth organisations. Since 2003, the organisation has organised a series of interdisciplinary conferences in Hungary for professionals working with children. The scope of their activities includes international projects which they share with other Hungarian organisations and professionals.

The organisation offers
- Support for the development and implementation of academic programmes, and
- Training for professionals.
- Exchanges within professional networks
- A platform to facilitate cooperation between partners on questions relating to politics and training issues.

People resources
The organisation’s president is a professor who specialises in social work and is associate professor at the university of Széchenyi István in Győr. Their areas of particular interest are: the development of professional competencies in social work, social work with children and families, socio-cultural activities. The organisation works with a number of Hungarian education experts.
